Postdoctoral Fellow in Mathematics

Constantin College of Liberal Arts

Job Number: 15714UD

Date Posted: September 25, 2025

JOB DESCRIPTION

The University of Dallas, Constantin College of Liberal Arts, invites new or recent mathematics doctoral recipients to apply for a full-time faculty position as a Postdoctoral Teaching Fellow for a term of two years, beginning in the Fall of 2026. The unique emphasis for this position is to provide experience in teaching mathematics using inquiry-based learning methods. The successful candidate will teach at least one course each semester using these methods. The mathematics department has a long, well-established history of using inquiry-based learning in many of its course offerings, both for majors and non-majors. Financial support may be available for attending conferences focused on inquiry-based methods in mathematics. The start date for this position is August 19, 2026. Further information about the department can be found at <https://udallas.edu/academics/programs/mathematics>.

PRIMARY RESPONSIBILITIES

- The candidate will teach three courses each semester that support both the mathematics major and the university core curriculum.
- The candidate will be responsible for preparing for each class meeting, leading classroom discussion, grading assignments and exams, and assigning grades in each course.
- The candidate will hold regular office hours and attend monthly department meetings.

MINIMUM REQUIREMENT

- Applicants must have earned a Ph.D. in any area of mathematics, applied mathematics, or statistics by Fall 2026, and should not have earned their degree earlier than 2025.
